2 years as an elected member of council has given me great understanding of Denmark, the local residents and local government procedures. One of my biggest attributes is personal engagement with our community and listening to people and their perspective, experiences, and concerns. I am approachable, honest, open minded and willing to be challenged when evaluating important issues. Being a father, small business owner, and youngest councilor, my presence brings much needed balance and diversity to our Council. I have a firm understanding of the expectations, and commitment to fulfill the duties as an elected councilor. I am tremendously keen to continue in this role and I value the opportunity that this position provides. I very much so look forward to helping shape our community for the future of everyone that lives in this beautiful place we call home.
